Thought for January, 2014

The man at the gate of the year!

The New Year traditionally is a time for making resolutions and it seems not a bad idea on the whole. A fresh start – a new beginning – a clean page to start afresh with. All these are imbued with something we all need – HOPE.

The reality is of course that even with fresh starts we bring to them what some people negatively call baggage (which of course there can be) but if we are to make a fresh start the things that we bring can also be experience and wisdom (which are positive things).

If we look back at last year, there are plenty of things that happened that will have challenged us or surprised us. Plenty of things that have made us make changes to the way and how we live, be it: births or deaths, employment or retirement, success or failure. Each of these is a challenge or an opportunity and we can meet them positively or negatively. It's how we meet them that ultimately make the difference – the half empty or half full syndrome.

As we start 2014 if we want to really make it a fresh start we have to lay hold of that HOPE so that we can meet the challenges and opportunities ahead in a positive way; to use our wisdom and experience to make the most of them.

There is a prayer that seems to sum this up.

God, grant me the serenity to accept the things I cannot change, the courage to change the things I can, and wisdom to know the difference.

With New Year blessings, Rev Chris Woadden.

BARBARA RAMSDEN

The week before Christmas the funeral service for Barbara Ramsden was held at St Peter's here in Holton-le-Clay where, for many years, she and her husband Tom had worshipped and been very active supporters of our congregation. Due to illness she had been unable to attend services over recent months, but she was formerly the Church Treasurer (Maths being her subject as a teacher!); was part of the Holton News team, helping with distribution; and a wise and thoughtful member of our Bible study group. It was easy to love Barbara, she had such a great sense of fun, was a super friend with such a lovely smile, and was a lady of great faith. We will miss you. M.

When we fail to keep the resolutions that affect those around us, we are breaking promises we have made to them. Promises are important, but in our society we have become conditioned to the fact that promises are not kept. So we take them and make them lightly. When we watch television, we are constantly bombarded with advertisements that promise that a particular product will make our lives better. Our teeth will be whiter, our clothes cleaner, our bodies healthier. At New Year, we make promises that we will probably fail to keep.

Human beings have difficulty keeping promises, but there is one who is consistent. God keeps his promises. He did so throughout the history of Israel, always fulfilling his word. He finally fulfilled his promises to Israel in the birth of Jesus.

In today's society when promises are taken lightly, when resolutions are easily set aside, we have one in whom we can have absolute trust. Though our family and friends may break their promises, God will never do so. Rest assured that whatever God has planned for your life will come to be.

A New Year's Resolution

A New Year's resolution is a promise that you will change some aspect of your life. Generally New Year resolutions are private matters for the well-being of the people making them. The habits of chocoholics or fast food freaks usually only affect the lives of others if their diet eventually brings poor health.

Some resolutions, however, are promises made to other people. Some people promise to spend more time with their families or to do more for other people. Others promise their bosses that they will work harder at their jobs. Even children get involved by promising their parents and teachers that they will spend more time on their homework and less time on their computer games!

Have you still got postage stamps from Christmas cards?

Oxfam say: Do you have an old stamp collection lurking in the loft or a stash of foreign coins at the back of a drawer?

Used stamps, coins, banknotes and other collectables such as medals and badges can be donated to your local Oxfam shop for us to pass on to our specialists. If you are a collector, you can buy donated stamps and coins in the Oxfam Online Shop or find your nearest specialist Oxfam shop.

<http://www.oxfam.org.uk/donate/donate-goods/what-you-can-donate/donating-stamps-and-coins>

Other charities such as Royal National Institute of Blind People are happy to receive these, as they can be sold on to dealers. Stamps should be cut round, leaving a border of 5 mm.
